

‘India Copper Forum 2008’ in Mumbai

International Copper Promotion Council (ICPCI) is organizing the annual India Copper Forum 2008 on August 29 at Intercontinental Hotel in Mumbai to analyze trends, guide future developments and discuss topical issues concerning all the constituents of this industry. It will bring together the world's leading producers and fabricators together with their Indian counterparts and user groups. Participants in the forum will be representatives from major global producers including BHP Billiton, Codelco, Freeport McMoran, Xstrata; major Indian producers Hindalco Industries, Sterlite Industries, Jhagadia Copper; major global fabricators including Wieland Werke as well as the leading fabricators and users of copper in India. Eminent speakers will focus on this year's theme – Energy, Environment & Copper and also discuss the importance of Energy Efficiency for India. The Director - General, Bureau of Energy Efficiency, Dr. Ajay Mathur and The Chairman of the Indian Green Building Council, Dr. Prem C. Jain shall deliver keynote addresses.